

Sgt. Brandon J Schmidt, food service specialist, B Co., 168th Med. Bn (left) and Sgt. Salahundin Muhammad, personnel service specialist, 501st. Signal Co. contemplate their next bet during a game of seven-card stud.

BOSS brings riverboat - style gambling to the Han River

Single soldiers from all over the peninsula were bused to Seoul Friday evening for the BOSS Han River Casino Cruise on Friday.

Those that participated were given $300 worth of chips for them to play at the blackjack, poker, roulette and craps tables. For those that did not want to gamble, card games, chess and checkers were available.

At the end of the evening, the participants bid on auctioned prizes.

This was one of the many BOSS events that are held throughout the year. For more information, contact your MWR office or call the BOSS hotline at 738-5254.

Those who joined the cruise were treated to a buffet-style dinner of shrimp, pork chops, turkey, salads, and desserts.

The cruise offered the single soldiers a scenic view of Seoul.

The event organizers auction off a prize.

One of the cruises' participants wins a hand of five-card draw.

"Hit me!" a blackjack player tells the dealer.

*Text and photos by
Sgt. Russell C. Bassett
8th Army PAO*

The Han River riverboat sits at dock preparing to be boarded by hundreds of soldiers.